Capital Gossip

Washington, D.C., Feb. 13.
Editor Eagle,

Reciprocity with the Dominion of Canada continues to hold the boards with not much upon which to base anything like a dead sure prophecy as to which side of the stake and rider fence the cat is going to jump. That it will ultimately jump one way or the other (there is not the ghost of a chance for it to go up a tree) seems probable. But when, and whether it will be able to land upon all its four feet are still questions to be answered at some indefinite time.

There are moments when the prospects for the passage of this tremendously important treaty appear to its friends as rosy as sunrise over the big Black Mountain on a fine morning in early May. At other times all hopes for a favorable consideration of the treaty seem to have slipped into the bowels of the earth thru that gruesome operation known to all readers of the Eagle as the Bullhole.

As reported to the House by the Ways and Means Committee the proposed treaty bears substantially the same earmarks as when it emerged from the Executive Mansion some three weeks ago. There were a few amendments adopted, in committee, but they were not such as to radically effect the treaty. Its general outlines remain the same.

It is in the Senate that the real fight will occur. In the House a majority of the Democrats are for it. Democrats in the Senate are lined up almost solidly in opposition. Some furious speeches are being prepared. It will be unusually interesting to note the proceedings in the Senate when the treaty reaches that body.

At least two distinguished Kentuckians will be badly put out in the event of an extra session of Congress. They are Representative Ollie James, who wishes to succeed Senator Paynter, and Mr. Paynter himself, who hopes to come back. They are anxious to start their respective campaigns in the State. An extra session would disarrange their programs indefinitely, and work to the advantage of other candidates. It is the purpose of each of these men to canvass the State extensively.

LETTER

From Mr. J. S. Tyler

Summerfield, Fla.
Feb. 11, 1911.

Dear Editor: We left Eastern Kentucky December 8th, and arrived here the 12th, of the same month and found the country much superior to our expectation. We found oranges and grape-fruit growing to perfection on every side. I took a stroll out to Lake Weir a few days ago and on my way passed hundreds of acres of orange groves. There was one grove in particular that I noticed that contained 100 acres and there were hundreds of bushels of oranges growing on it. The lake is surrounded by these groves, the lake itself being about four miles wide and seven miles long. Plenty of fine fish play in its beautiful waters. There are also lots of watermelons, cantaloupes and tomatoes produced here; most everybody already have crops planted and growing and from these will gather their early spring crops. By going out only a mile or two one can see hundreds of acres now in cultivation. We are located at Summerfield which is a small town on the main trunk line from Jacksonville to Tampa. About six passenger trains pass the usual amount of freight trains here each day. The most of the winter season here is as near as I can tell like the summer season in Eastern Kentucky. People are arriving here most every day looking for homes. They are mostly from the Northern States. Two thirds of them perhaps locate in this (Marion) county and I hear only words of praise from them.

Of course I have not been here long enough to learn all about everything, but from what we have seen and heard my family and myself are thoroughly satisfied. If any reader of the Eagle wishes to ask me any questions regarding this land of perpetual sunshine, birds and flowers he may do so and I will gladly impart any information I can.

Mr. Editor, spread those Eagle's wings and don't fail to let her fly to this sunny shore each week.

With kind regards and remembrance for all my friends back in old Letcher a thousand miles or more away, I am,

Very Respectfully,
J. Sylvan Tyler.

Dear Editor,

I am a little Florida girl living half a mile from Summerfield, near Lake Weir. Sometime we drive out to the lake and watch the wild ducks and alligators swim thru the water. And then we go to the orange orchard and see the golden fruit growing on the trees. Another beautiful sight along the sandy road is a forest of stately pines. Love to all Letcher cousins.

Nora Blair.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and at the first indication of croup give the child a dose. Pleasant to take and always cures. Sold by all dealers.

Is NOT Dead

It is seldom that a man is lucky enough to read his own death notice in the papers and to know what is said about him after he "is no more." But such is the case with Bona Banks who resides about two miles below town. Last week we published him dead and we never once doubted the truthfulness of our statement till the Eagle was entirely off the press and a great number mailed. At 12 o'clock on the day of publication it was generally known all over town that Mr. Banks had died early that morning, the news having been 'phoned into town. Everybody seemed to know it. Thus the mistake. However, we are glad to inform Mr. Banks that he is not dead and also extend to him our wish that he may live many days yet.

It seems that the mistake occurred over the fact that Mr. Banks had very much of a fainting spell, was unconscious for sometime, and those present really thought he was dead and wired their thoughts over the country. We published what they thought. Again, we desire to state that it our pleasure to inform Mr. Banks that he is NOT dead.

Do you know that croup can be prevented? Give Chamberlain's Cough remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It is also a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Sold by all dealers.

A Serious Loss

Dear Editor,
Some time has elapsed since anything from me has appeared in your paper. My health is still not good. Since in October last I had not been more than fifty yards from our home till on the night our house caught fire and all went up in flames. Its terrible to stand by and see the earnings of many years go to destruction. Our family escaped and we are so thankful for this. In two more minutes this would all have been impossible. Dear mothers, be careful about your homes, fire is so dangerous. It seems to me I can never sleep sound again. Maybe, however, God will comfort me. He alone can. Strange how thoughtless we are till we are forced to depend upon the mercy of Him who rules in heaven and earth. I want our friends to remember us in our destitute condition.
Your friend,
Naty Holcomb.

Line Fork, Feb. 18

W. M. Blair has in his possession a very old writing which has been handed down by his foreparents since 1797, and since the building of a railroad thru this section will bring about many changes and destroy much of our timber, scenery, etc., he has decided to have a copy of the same published. It is as follows: "LOCATION OF SWIFT, MONDAY & GARRETT MINE."

"Two short days' ride from Castle's Camp (supposed to be now called Castleswoods, Va.) See water courses running in a Northern direction. See a ball spot on mountain suitable for a pasture for horses with very rough cliffs around it so as to keep horses inside by putting a few poles at entrance. See water falls near this. See a large spring boiling up with small streams running up from it in little channels forming the shape of a Jew's harp. See a remarkable rock just above the forks of a creek near where the rock goes nearly across the creek (called the old man). See the names Swift, Monday & Garrett, on a large beech tree, near there in a holly grove near the forks of the creek. See an awful rough country along the creek for 5 or 6 miles from the ball spot on mountain.

"See a buffalo or deer lick two miles from furnace. See a salt spring at a water course 2 to 4 miles from furnace. See a long high ridge 8 or 9 miles north of the furnace. See ponds on mountain with catail flags around them near furnace. See hills from the mountain near furnace at a distant forming sharp tops like haystacks.

"Find over 500 pounds melted from ore and placed under roots of a birch and pine, 'ingrown', about midway between furnace and mine, and the ball spot where horses were enclosed."

A true copy of the above writing found in the papers of Chas. Blair, grandfather of Esq. Blair, who once lived on head of Franks Creek, head of Cumberland river, are now in the latter's possession. Unless accidentally destroyed, lost or stolen, Esq. Blair says he will not part with same.

A Serious Loss

Dear Editor,

Some time has elapsed since anything from me has appeared in your paper. My health is still not good. Since in October last I had not been more than fifty yards from our home till the night our house caught fire and all went up in flames. Its terrible to stand by and see the earnings of many years go to destruction. Our family escaped and we are so thankful for this. In two more minutes this would all have been impossible. Dear mothers, be careful about your homes, fire is so dangerous. It seems to me I can never sleep sound again. Maybe, however, God will comfort me. He alone can. Strange how thoughtless we are till we are forced to depend upon the mercy of Him who rules in heaven and earth. I want our friends to remember us in our destitute condition.

Your friend,

Naty Holcomb.

Line Fork, Feb. 15

W. M. Blair has in his possession a very old writing which has been handed down by his foreparents since 1797, and since the building of a railroad thru this section will bring about many changes and destroy much of our timber, scenery, etc. he has decided to have a copy of the same published. It is as follows: "LOCATION OF SWIFT, MONDAY & GARRETT MINE."

"Two short days' ride from Castle's Camp (supposed to be now called Castleswoods, Va.) See water courses running in a Northern direction. See a ball spot on mountain suitable for a pasture for horses with very rough cliffs around it so as to keep horses inside by putting a few poles at entrance. See water falls near this. See a large spring boiling up with small streams running up from it in little channels forming the shape of a jew's harp. See a remarkable rock just above the forks of a creek near where the rock goes nearly across the creek (called the old man). See the names Swift, Monday & Garrett, on a large beech tree, near there in a holly grove near the forks of the creek. See an awful rough country along the creek for 5 or 6 miles from the ball spot on mountain.

"See a buffalo or deer lick two miles from furnace. See a salt spring at a water course 2 to 4 miles from furnace. See a long high ridge 8 or 9 miles north of the furnace. See ponds on mountain with catail flags around them near furnace. See hills from the mountain near furnace at a distant forming sharp tops like haystacks.

"Find over 500 pounds melted from ore and placed under roots of a birch and pine, 'ingrown', about midway between furnace and mine, and the ball spot where horses were enclosed."

A true copy of the above writing found in the papers of Chas. Blair, grandfather of Esq. Blair, who once lived on head of Franks Creek, head of Cumberland river, are now in the latter's possession. Unless accidentally destroyed, lost or stolen, Esq. Blair says he will not part with same.

This is the season of planting seed, 'tis also the printers' time of need. Sow lettuce seed and radish, too, and pay the printer whatever is due; go lay you off an onion bed and remember the printer must be fed; sow several rows of early peas and pay for last year's paper, please; dig up the earth around each vine and if you want the Eagle drop us a line, plant some potatoes to put in the hash and remember the printer is short of cash; fix up your hill or more of beans and know ye the editor is short of means, of watermelons you'll need a patch—the editor's pants need one to match. Pay up your subscription, then plant your corn and you'll raise a big crop as sure as you're born.

A certain young lady in town who has made up her mind about some things hands us the following for publication: "Dear Editor—Why don't you condemn the foolish way women have of kissing each other? If twenty women were to meet in the street every last one of them would have to kiss the other nineteen, and there would be—let me see—380 kisses worse than thrown away, for no doubt in less than ten minutes the whole party would separate into squads and go off talking about each other. When you see one of these violent, miscellaneous kiss-everything-in-sight kind of a woman, it is pretty safe to set her down as a—let me see. If I had my way kissing should be confined to family uses and for medicinal purposes only. Now, don't you sign my name to this 'or I will kiss you right on Main street the first time I catch you out.' You may bet your bottom dime that your name does not go to this.

I had thought of saying this something about 'Washing'—the rest of the loose papers are right now in the world on the great—our hero, we gracefully—For a number of years we have found out nothing new about the man and can see no good reason for continuing to rehash things about him. The Eagle is a great friend to Washington but it knows that nothing could say would add the least bit to his already well established fame. May our Washington rest in peace, undisturbed by the little flashes that will scintillate from the pens of our brother editors.

Estables have been holding out fine for this time of year but now points to a coal

Between...Puffs....

LIFE is uncertain and so is the weather. Last week the sun was pouring forth its burning beams and the little buds were peeping out, today a gloomy coldness pervades the heavens and the snow, the beautiful snow, is flying cross-legged through the air, the little buds have crawled back into their hiding places and the old cow shivers in the fence corner as she did in December.

A GOOD deal of maneuvering in Democratic circles seems to be going on down in the "furrin" parts of the State and all looking forward to the coming State Primary set at present for May 27. So far no mountain Democrat has ventured to become a candidate. According to the last figures writ upon the political signboard a man wishing to take his chances on a race for an official trough has got to put up a pretty heavy wad and we take it that this is the reason no one has ventured beyond the door-sill. Primary or convention, whichever it may be, a poor man hain't got no chance, nohow.

SOME fellow away out in Western Kentucky, perhaps in the Purchase, by the name of Barksdale Hamlett has rolled up his "britches" and waded out as a Democratic candidate for State Superintendent of Schools. Hamlett! If that name don't bust the primary, what will? Up here in these rugged hills we are used to many new things, but Hamlett!—can we ever stand that?

WE were just thinking the other day about the old-time fishing hole up below the mouth of Thornton, of the hole where we used to sit with our sore toes in the warm water and wait and wait for hours and never get a nibble. Ever now and then a little minnow would flip above the surface and whirl his head toward us to see how we were enjoying the sport. Those were great days! Days of sore toes and sore heels, seatless trousers, one cloth gallus and two wooden pegs for buttons, a gourd full of big fat red worms and a mother's pepper box full of crickets and grasshoppers! Who wouldn't like to be a boy again and live as a boy on and forever.

THERE are a lot of have-been leaders, "skew-bald" Democrats, down in Kentucky that are fixing things right nicely for the Republicans next November. The path to the Governor's chair is what might be called clear for O'Rear and Gov. Willson is chuckling in his sleeve on account of his prospects to succeed Senator Paynter. Politicians who get so hungry ought to be barricaded right on the head of Salt river and be forced to subsist on hard-tack the rest of their days. It would certainly be best for good government and the peace and prosperity of the State if such was the case. They apparently never learn that the people are constantly "gagging" at such political conduct.

WANTED

I want a good man in this territory as Local Agent for one county, or as General Agent for a number of counties. This is a new proposition and offers you an opportunity to make from $25.00 to $50.00 a week, and on up to $100.00 or $150.00 a year. No experience is necessary, but I want a man—young or old—who will treat me square, who will follow instructions, and who will do his level best.

A Good Example

"I am a good example," writes Mrs. R. L. Bell, of McAlester, Okla., "of what Cardui will do for suffering women."

"I suffered with my head and back, for over six years, and although I tried everything, I never could get anything to do me any good, until I began to take Cardui."

"Cardui has surely helped me and built me up and I am so thankful that I have found something that will do me good. I feel so much stronger and better than I have in a long time."

It is well to make up your mind before you are sick what medicine you will take when you are sick.

Take CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

You will be glad to take it when you are tired, miserable and when life seems a weary grind. It will put new thoughts into your head, fresh courage into your mind. If not sick now, at least burn Cardui on to the pages of your memory, so that when you are sick you will ask for it without thinking.

If sick or weak, get a bottle today. At all druggists.

From a School-boy.

Dear Editor, Will you please let a school boy enter the columns of the noble bird? I am fifteen years old and have attended our school every day for the last six months. Our school ended last Saturday with a nice peaceable entertainment. Over 300 people were present. W. E. Brown was our teacher and we regerted very much to give him up.

I read the Eagle each week and am glad to be able to say so.

If I don't see this in print, I'll take it as a gentle hint, That you have thrown it away, And I'll just come another day.

Say, did you know you could not now lawfully mail a first-class letter without your name and address printed or written up in the left hand corner of the envelope? The postoffice department so ruled after Jan. 1, 1911, and to save time you had better have your envelopes printed at the Eagle office.

A few days ago Drs. Pursifull and Ison performed very dangerous and painful operations on Arnett Mitchell and Marion Stamper, Jr. The operations were both very successful and it is thought both the gentlemen will soon be on foot again. The patients are now at the residence of Judge Lewis.

Viewed one way it is a right serious thing to publish a man dead when he is not, but after all there is a funny side to most everything. Life is one round of laughter and tears.

Yesterday was a holiday, Washington's birthday, but no rest days seem to come in a printing office. The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church observed the day at the residence of Judge Lewis.

Union Bank, Miller's Boarding House, John A. Webb & Co. and Whitesburg Telephone Co. and others have our thanks for job printing orders. Also we turned out some nice letter heads for Lewis Bros.

Our friend H.B. Branson sends us a dollar to pay for the Eagle a year to be sent to G.M. Hogg at Lakewood, N.Mex. In writing us Mr. Branson says: "This young man left Letcher county 28 years ago and engaged in the cattle business in the west. He has been engaged in this business since. I send him the Eagle that he may know how the land of his nativity is progressing." Mr. Branson is one of the big-souled citizens of Letcher county who has been instrumental in making the Eagle a success.

Miss Laura Tate, after a stay here of several months returned to her home at Big Stone Gap a few days ago. While here Miss Tate endeared herself to all with whom she became acquainted. Her many friends were indeed grieved to see her leave but trust that she will soon return.

F. G. Fields, postmaster here, installed a new and up-to-date cabinet in the postoffice a few days ago. Since the burn out at this place the people have been at a great inconvenience in getting their mail, but now with the added facilities everybody it is believed will be faithfully served.

The weather man changed his mind about spring coming in February and decided to give us several more cold spells with snow a-plenty. Its perhaps best after all, provided we can get enough coal to carry us thru.

If you have not handed us your subscription to the daily Courier-Journal its a good time right now.

They say that John Tolson says there will be 'teen shows yet. Surely not this year.

Owing to our inability to get hauling done we are right now short on some lines of job printing material.

If any reader in town has trouble getting the folks up for breakfast or to kindle a fire let them scream "fire, fire!" and out they'll come.

Please see to it that you settle your accounts for job work before the first of each month. We have to pay our bills every thirty days.

Marshalls Tom Hollifield and Tolbert Holliday are here on business for the government. Neither of these officers permit grass to grow under their feet.

Hon. Ira Fields, after attending court at Haard returned to his home here.

Millard Collins is about the same this week as heretofore reported.

John, the little son of Wilsie Franklin, of Colly, is reported very sick.

The sun came up Wednesday morning and after blinking a blink or two and nodding "howdy" to a shivering world proceeded on his way across a clear gray sky. He made strong efforts throughout the day to make the inhabitants comfortable but succeeded poorly on the job.

They say the roads are getting worse and worse. Can that be possible?

John H. Adington, of Wright, was down to the city yesterday. He says that things are moving along at a lively rate up his way.

Did you ever notice that there is sometimes more news stirring around than at other times? Well this is one of the weeks that almost nothing is going on.

Paper making and printing is the biggest business in the world. It was the newspapers that demanded reciprocity with Canada. Why? So that the products of the great Canadian forests can come into this country and break the back of the big paper trusts.

LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
